

The O'ahu County Democrats will hold nine meetings at various locations, dates, and times listed below that will focus on educating Hawaii voters on how to participate in the 2020 Democratic Presidential Preference Poll. The results of Hawai'i Democratic Presidential Preference Poll will determine how Hawai'i's delegates will cast their votes at the Democratic National Convention. Ultimately, the candidate with the most delegates at the Democratic National Convention will receive the Democratic nomination and face the current president in the November 3, 2020 general election.

Instead of the crowded and often chaotic caucus-style events of the past, the new 2020 Hawai'i Democratic Presidential Preference Poll will feature:

- * Vote-by-mail for all enrolled members of the Democratic Party of Hawai'i
- * Ranked choice voting,
- * In-person voting, registration, and party enrollment on Saturday, April 4, 2020.

The public is invited to attend any of the following O'ahu Democratic Party Regional Meetings to participate in Presidential Preference Poll workshops. Free.
